Editorial Comment and Opinion

—And Battles Long Ago'

The invasion of South Korea in 1950 was but the latest in a series dating back 40 centuries. The authentic history of the peninsula began in 1122 B.C. with the arrival of a Chinese nobleman, Ki Tse, and 5,000 followers. He fought off barbarian raiders from the north and invaders from Japan to found a dynasty that survived for a thousand years. After the Han conquest of 100 B.C., three states emerged and began fighting each other, about the time of the birth of Christ, battling Japanese invaders at intervals. Silla absorbed the other two with the aid of Chinese war lords. Two centuries later the declining Chinese power weakened Silla and it was overthrown by a Korean officer, Wang Kien, who by 935 A.D. was ruling Koryu—the Korea of today.

Nearly 400 years later an army general overthrew the descendant of Wang Kien, largely because of disgust with the corruption and political power of the Buddhist monasteries. Two centuries later Japan cast a covetous eye on the peninsula, and tried for seven years to conquer it, only to be thrown out by Chinese aid. This sparked the fierce hatred of Koreans for Japanese that was to last for centuries. When in 1627 Korea went to the aid of China against Manchuria, she was roundly defeated. For the next 250 years Korea was a closed and forgotten kingdom, hostile to every outside influence, and particularly dangerous to Christian missionaries. But toward the end of the last century she was again embroiled between China and Japan, and eventually caught up into war against China, which left her to the "protection" of Japan.

About that time Russia began to take an interest in the peninsula; and went to war with Japan after the king of Korea had fled to Russia to rule in exile. Japan won that war, made Korea a protectorate and began a 40-year occupation that crushed every attempt at rebellion. Peace returned with the Allied victory of 1945, but with the peninsula divided, it was unstable peace. In five years war came again.

And why are the United Nations spending so much blood and treasure in behalf of this apparently doomed state? Partly because it is too close to Japan to make occupation by the Russians permissible. More remotely because the history of Korea includes long periods of lofty civilization, surpassing that of the rest of Asia for a millenium. The Wang Kien regime was a brilliant period until corruption destroyed it. The conquest gave Korea two centuries of prosperity, ended feudalism and introduced the beginnings of democracy.

Because, finally, the Koreans are a people capable of great things if ever given sufficient respite from war. Because they have been victims of one tyranny after another for thousands of years since before the existence of America was even suspected. Because they have a right to live, and a contribution to make. This is the background that makes Rhee willing and anxious to fight alone, if he must. Unhappily he is not moved by the danger of ruining the truce that had appeared to be almost an accomplished fact. Only history can prove who is right. What appears inevitable is that events are building up to a tragedy. It won't be the first for Korea, nor the last.

Britannia Guards the Waves

Anybody who believes the British have sat down to trade with Communists and wait for them to take over, can learn something quite different by asking somebody on the British admiralty staff as an American correspondent did the other day. With considerably more realism than their army displayed in this country in 1776, the navy has stopped thinking in terms of battleships and is going in for aircraft carriers, principally. Frigates and submarines are also being built in great numbers, and the navy's 147,000 men constitute a higher peace time force than at any time before the late war.

"Britain may not rule the waves any more," said the naval officer, "but we guard them, and guard them as never before."

Potential enemies aren't building battleships today, but basing their tactics on mining harbor entrances, torpedoing convoys and bombing escorts. British strategy has accordingly shifted to counter-attack. But the emphasis is on defense through strength. World War II cost the British navy bitterly because of its failure to have enough frigates, which are small easy-to-build chore-boys able to withstand air attacks, to hunt out U-boats with wireless and radar and depth charges. Today it has 218 of these versatile craft.

Destroyers are being converted into fast anti-submarine frigates and a new class of warship is being built with shallow draft, permitting them to go close in shore and strike at speed. Since submarine and airborne craft have made surface vessels altogether too vulnerable, the British are concentrating on such as will either dive or fly. Today they are ahead in the race to produce both in quantity. So it isn't necessary to sell Britain short this week.

Not So Contaminated, Maybe

Repercussions from the unexpected revolt of East Germans are still surprising and encouraging the free world, and pleasantly jolting the pessimists. The cynicism of the Kremlin in sending unmitigated ruffians like Walter Uhlbricht and Franz Dahlem, who rate in the higher circles of bloodthirsty Soviet lackeys, to run East Germany, has been rebuked. So has the pessimism of Western states in writing off the people as hopeless, if not actually dangerous. The depth of this despair is measured by the world's astonishment over the latest revelations.

Foremost among these, surprisingly enough, is the low estate in which the Communists are generally held even in East Germany. It had been generally accepted that the youth of that area had been infected and would need a lot of "decontamination" when Eastern Europe was freed. That danger appears to have been exaggerated in the public mind. Resentment of terror, and the speed-up, and regimentation at Russian hands, made so plain by the short rebellion, showed again how right was Franz Borkenau, known as an acute authority of Communism, when he wrote:

"The simple truth is the same in Germany as all over Europe. Wherever men and women saw the Russian invader in the flesh, Communism lost all its chances in winning the masses."

Democrats Strive to Split GOP

WASHINGTON — Politically the Eisenhower administration and the Republican Congress are stronger today than on the day of the election last November. Not only does a recent Gallup survey show this appraisal, but there are other evidences of a political nature that the negative trend which set in against the Democrats and the Truman administration has not yet reached its peak and may result in an actual increase of Republican strength in the congressional elections next year.

Lawrence

One thing, however, could change the picture for the Republican—a successful effort by the Democrats in the north in their present campaign to split the Republican party wide open. Indeed, the radical Democrats in the East are so convinced that this is a winning strategy that they have to set to work intensively to bring about that result. They have begun a nation-wide attempt to drive a wedge inside the Republican party on the anti-Communist issue. For, while the Democratic managers didn't like to admit it during the last campaign, the fact is that the anti-Communist issue cut deeply into the ranks also of the Democratic voters. From a political viewpoint, the lines of cleavage have hardly been altered since last November.

Much of the momentum behind the anti-McCarthy speeches being delivered nowadays with such vehemence by Sen. Lehman of New York and other Democratic speakers is due to a belief that anti-McCarthy tactics will result in a break-up of the Republican party. If, of course, there is such a serious split, the Democrats would profit immensely by the division.

Democratic Tactics

The Democratic managers have a right to try those tactics. It's logical for them. Their speakers give the impression, of course, on the surface that their sole target is Sen. McCarthy and that, if he is weakened in the public eye as a result of persistent attacks, there will be an augmentation of Democratic votes. But the smart ones among the Democrats know that this isn't going to be the result at all and that instead what would really happen would be a break-off of the pro-McCarthy Republicans from Eisenhower. That is the principal reason why the Democrats and many of their fair deal supporters in the Washington press have lately been striving so desperately to convince certain gullible persons in the Eisenhower entourage that the time has come for a break with McCarthy by the President. Mr. Eisenhower thus far has avoided the trap, but his every utterance, however abstract, is promptly construed as a concrete manifestation of hostility to McCarthy.

What is not generally realized is that McCarthy is only a symbol of anti-Communist feeling and that efforts to discredit the Wisconsin senator's crusade against Communists in the government will leave a residue of bitter feeling among the anti-Communist Republicans throughout the country, and especially in the Middle West.

Some of the leaders in the eastern wing of the Republican Party have never clearly understood the Wisconsin election of last autumn. They are apparently eager to have a demonstration once more that, when the issue is made, the cause of the anti-Communist crusader, no matter what his name may be, will have a majority following even though his "methods" are criticized. The Democrats in Congress who in the last 20 years have used the same "Methods" are, of course, never mentioned.

Dies Started Crusade

The anti-Communist crusade didn't start with McCarthy. It goes all the way back to the 1930's when Rep. Martin Dies of Texas, Democrat, head of the house committee on un-American activities, was the victim of just as much vituperation as has since been visited on the Wisconsin senator or on anyone else who has dared to use a congressional investigating committee to expose the tricks and stratagems of the Communists and fellow travelers in America.

The cry that the nation is "filled with fear" and that "intellectuals" can't express themselves freely and that the United States is the victim of "witch hunts" may be swallowed as gospel by the radical Democrats and by various people, most of whom voted for Stevenson last autumn, but the number of Republicans who feel that way about it today is a small percentage of the Republican party. Hence the inside strategy of the Democrats is to alienate Eisenhower from the wing of the Republican party in which Sen. Taft was so strong last year, hoping the anti-McCarthy Republican faction will grow larger and larger. The Republican party was almost equally divided before last year's national conventions as between Taft and Eisenhower. The Taft following to a large extent was on the McCarthy side, especially in the Middle West.

So any sizable division in the Republican party, from whatever cause, will be fatal to the congressional nominees of the Republican Party in the 1954 elections. Many of the anti-Communist Republicans will not go to the polls to vote for candidates who may have teamed up with anyone, including Mr. Eisenhower, to relax vigilance on the anti-Communist crusade.

MORE OR LESS PERSONAL

— A Chat with the EDITOR —

A colleague on the business side of the newspaper asked me yesterday what I tell readers who complain that newspapers are too full of the sorry and sordid side of life, and too little concerned with the constructive, creative and triumphant. The complaint is one we hear so often it is almost a cliche.

The answer is simple. I merely tell them to look at the paper again—any day's paper. The tragedies, disasters and failures of life don't predominate. They may make the deeper initial impression on the reader's mind, but they are actually the smaller part of the newspaper's content, by far.

* * *

So I took Tuesday's paper and marked it. It is true that on Page One were stories of a strangler who had killed seven Englishwomen; of a boy's drowning; of the county's first case of polio; of the sudden death of a young policeman, of the expulsion of 10,000 Chinese Communists killed and wounded in the "Battle of the Bulge," and of the funeral of an eminent citizen.

Mirror Of Life

But there was also a column of news about the uprisings behind the Iron Curtain—a story as triumphant in its implications as the deathless spirit of freedom itself. There was a column-long report about the U.N. command's dealings with Syngman Rhee; you could call this sordid news, if you wished, or you could see that it bore on the question of whether men could organize effectively for world order. There was a story on the size of the Air Force—or dealing, in other words, with the security of the land of the free and the home of the brave.

* * *

Another column dealt with the start of the wheat harvest ("Give us this day our daily bread . . ."), and several inches were devoted to protecting Nebraska's reputation—it had been listed as a "drought" state.

* * *

On the inside pages the news of constructive endeavor took the bulk of the space. On Page Two men were pictured drilling wells to assure the city an adequate water supply. There was an account of a rural church meeting, and of a Lutheran chorus; a call for succor to the wounded through Red Cross blood donations; a story dealing with the adequacy of the State Health Department staff, and an account of the proud achievement of young people—4-H club scholarship winners. Sordid stuff?

* * *

Continuing on through the paper you could find a discussion of those factors which, industry considers, make for a good local community; a report on electric power rates—electrified living has "liberated" thousands of households; a review by the governor of the elements of a better tax system; a plea by citizens living near a race track for conditions conducive to more pleasant living.

* * *

One page was divided three ways: two death stories; pictures of rodeo performers entertaining Pawnee Countians; and the dedication of ten young men to lives of religious service.

Another inside page was dominated by harvest pictures; a story of achievement (prizes for essays on better highways—one about a project to melt hail before it hails (Gosh!), another about the drought in the southwest cattle country. Against these were one murder story, one small item about 6-foot dust drifts in Colorado.

* * *

A few inches on Page 8 about a murder trial and a highway crash were overshadowed by an illustrated feature about a Cozad man's interesting hobbies and a report on the problem of storing wheat, as old as and no more sordid than the Old Testament story of Joseph. A small story on Page 12 about the punishment of escaped prisoners was overshadowed by a report on the issue of medical help for the poor.

* * *

A good half of that day's editorial page was concerned with discussions of literature ("Books Readers Like Best"), of the place of religion at Girls' State, of cultural facilities for Lincoln (city auditorium), of the quality of justice (the Rosenberg case), and of educational values (the study of history). You could say that all of the society pages dealt with life's better things—young love, marriage, the home, the building of families, the reunion of friends and auld acquaintance; that all of the sports columns had to do with the pleasant side of life, and the cultivation of fun and fair play; and that at least a part of the comics page (that part not devoted to instruction, as in "Points for Parents") was good for a laugh or for relaxation from the tensions of the day.

* * *

The money changers had their due on the financial page, and since stocks were up slightly that would be sordid or not depending on what you owned, and your view of treasures that rust corrupts and thieves steal. But there was space here too for a story on improvement of the arts through the training of young people at the all-state course, and for one on the accreditation of Nebraska hospitals.

* * *

All things considered, any good daily newspaper mirrors life, its darker and its brighter sides. This day's paper—or almost any day's—stacks up well in this respect (although I would carry the analogy no farther) against the Old Testament. It too is full of tales of sordidness, violence, hate and failure, along with the unfolding story of man's steady struggle toward a fuller life in larger partnership with his Creator.

Not the Trouble

SUPERIOR—Now that there is some agitation to revise our state Constitution and send senators to the Legislature either as Republicans or Democrats, as the case may be, please permit me to say that I do not think that is what is the matter with our legislative system, at least not all of it. I hope to live to help restore the Senate chamber.

As a member of the last session of the bi-cameral Legislature when we were all elected on party tickets I believe I am safe in saying 90 per cent of the voting was done without regard to our political affiliations.

You cannot give a legislator a much greater affront than to accuse him of vote trading and the next thing to raise his ire is to intimate that the lobbyists had influenced him. But in a very real way both of those things do happen. The multitudinous number of bills introduced, makes it almost impossible for one to read all of them, let alone study them sufficiently and members come to accept the judgment of some friend whom he has learned to trust. These friendship groups become more firmly established as the Legislature wears on.

The lobbyists in a very real way contribute a second house and they are not there for their health. We do not pay them a wage or salary but the buying public or the taxpayers do pay handsomely to the firms or institutions whom they represent.

True there were lobbyists in the bi-cameral Legislature but there are never tight groups of friendship between members of the House and Senate. In fact they hardly learn each others names during legislative session. Lobbyists have a much harder time to put their deals over in a two-house Legislature.

While it does expedite matters to a very great extent to have one house vote on a proposition, I think that constitutes one of the greatest weaknesses of the Unicameral.

It was thought that after the other 47 states saw what a saving of time and money it means to Nebraska that they too would quickly fall in line and discard their upper chambers but be it to their everlasting credit, not a one of them has done so to date.

Our founding fathers were a group of almost inspired men and when they inaugurated a two-house plan of legislation it was best for us as a nation and I am sure it was best for us as a state.

I feel that the Hon. George W. Norris did Nebraska great injustice when he succeeded in closing the door to our Senate chamber.

Fine Event

LINCOLN — Without question the NCAA was the finest of all the athletic events we have ever seen. The hurdle races, in which Jack Davis wore all the callouses on his chest at the tape, were beautiful to watch. Probably one of the most demanding of distance races was the mile. At the finish, with only the clock and Santee to watch many fans were twisting their necks like owls in the woods. When javelins were sailing down the field, vaulters and jumpers flying through the air and 16 pound shots rolling about we were looking for anything and were not disappointed. A quarter of a century ago when 51 feet was big time in the shot put we would have been goggle-eyed at Saturday's marks.

It was a splendid meet even before the world record fell in the discus. We would have been more impressed by that event but we thought it was a flying saucer. The master of the calculated risk was Ferguson of the two-mile. He must have known how much Capozzoli had in reserve. Then, in the spirit of Ella Wheeler Wilcox with "songs enough for the hero" the crowd cheered each and every loser as he crossed the finish line. Far away some youngsters will hear the cheers which cannot be subdued and in his heart will say, "Again I am at a new mark."

The Sabbath

LINCOLN—Recent radio and newspaper reports have mentioned a Jewish Sabbath. The word, "sabbath" infers sacredness and we think immediately of our Bible. We look in it then search its holy pages but absence of that phrase is total' Colossians 2:16,17 speaks of sabbath days which are a shadow of things to come, i.e., Christ's death on the cross. In Leviticus 23:34,38 are mentioned similar ceremonial convocations, "beside the Sabbath of the Lord." The one Bible Sabbath was set aside, sanctified, blessed and made Holy by the triune God at the close of creation week when He with Christ rested upon and blessed the seventh day which seventh day Sabbath is the only Holy Sabbath known to our sacred Scriptures, Genesis to Revelations, Old and New Testaments, kept through all the ages by first, Christ and the Apostles, then by Christians to this day and to be kept by all the saved in "the earth made new," Isaiah 66.22,23. "Blessed are they that keep the commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life and may enter in through the gates into the City," Revelation 22:14.

NCAA Track Meet

LINCOLN — We are deeply grateful to The Journal for the terrific coverage of the NCAA Track and Field Championships. It required an "educational campaign" before the meet and your staff really pitched. Walt Dobbins, Dick Becker, Cooper Rollow, Jim Raglin, Ted Hayden . . . all were co-operating at all times. The Monday More or Less Personal column was appreciated, too.

We were grateful that 16,000 saw the meet. We are in a much sounder position to bid for it again in four or five years.

Railway Commission Efforts Affect Public

Buried in a news item the other day was another example of how the Nebraska Railway Commission affects the pocketbooks of citizens of this state.

* * *

THE ACCOUNT described a current effort on the part of the Commission, joining with others, to bring uniform interstate railroad freight rates all over the United States.

Commissioners Richard Larson and Joseph Brown are in Yellowstone, Wyo., this week meeting with commissioners from other states to plan future strategy.

Thomas

A uniform scale is used in the United States east of the Rockies. Westward the tariffs vary and the railroads apparently want to keep it that way.

At a May conference in Arizona between railroads, shippers, and state commissions the railroads turned thumbs down on plans to extend the uniform scale westward.

This uniform tariff, known as the Interstate Commerce Commission 28,300 scale, was established east of the Rockies only after years of litigation. It superseded all sorts of different freight rates in the eastern half of the country, including the discriminatory rates the South had so often complained about.

Now a case has been filed with the ICC to extend the 28,300 scale westward. The ICC asked interested parties to work things out.

The 28,300 scale provides uniform rates between any two equidistant interstate points.

* * *

THE RAILROADS seem to favor such a nationwide tariff only if they were allowed a "hump" along the present dividing line. This line roughly following the Rockies, is called the Colorado common point line.

The railroads contended there are extra costs in hauling goods over the mountains.

Harry King, rate expert for the Nebraska Commission, remarks, "Yet in a recent case the Milwaukee Railroad put forth exhibits to show it costs less to haul freight across the mountains than across the plains of the Dakotas."

KING SAYS that if the 28,300 scale were extended all over the United States it would mean lower costs on fruit and other shipments from the Pacific Northwest and also would mean Nebraska could sell more livestock, grain, and fresh meat to the Western states.

He illustrates by giving these comparisons on a 100 pound first class shipment from Omaha to Ogden, Utah.

Now it is $5.16.

If the 28,300 rating were spread westward, it would be $4.31.

But if the "hump" system proposed by the railroads were imposed, the total rate would be $6.62.

* * *

THE NEBRASKA COMMISSION'S efforts along this line illustrate what effect its actions can have on the public. For added freight rates are always passed on to the consumer in higher prices for the goods he buys.

This is the same Commission which decides how much you will be charged for your telephone, and what your bus fare and taxi charge will be. And for the farmer the Commission is charged with seeing that grain warehouses operate properly and that tractors aren't advertised and sold unless they've been tested at the University of Nebraska.

WHEN THE HALL County Board of Equalization announced it was raising valuations on real estate in Grand Island and other Hall County town by 20 per cent, not too much surprise was registered in Gov. Robert Crosby's office. The Hall County Board traveled to Lincoln and discussed the matter for more than an hour with Max Denney, Crosby's administrative assistant. Apparently the only full board to come to Lincoln to talk things over, the Hall Board was given an hour long explanation of why Crosby is insisting on equalization of tax valuations this year. . . . The smaller liquor dealers, increasingly apprehensive at stores which use liquor at below-cost prices as bait to get customers to buy other goods, are trying to buy other goods, are trying to figure a way to block the practice. They were stopped cold in their attempts in the Legislature. There have been indications the State Liquor Control Comission is investigating this matter, also.

ROBERT S. ALLEN Reports

Douglas May Resign From Supreme Court

WASHINGTON—Justice William O. Douglas is pondering another spectacular move.

He may resign from the bench.

That is what he is telling close friends.

Two who heard from him are Justices Stanley Reed and Hugo Black.

Allen

Another is Clark Clifford, White House counsel to former President Truman. In several years, Clifford has built up one of the most prosperous law practices in the Capital; among his clients are large oil and industrial interests. Clifford has been credited with trying to persuade Douglas to quit the Court and become his partner.

Justices Reed and Black, like Douglas, were appointed by the late President Roosevelt. Reed, a Kentuckian, was one of the six who overruled Douglas' stay in the Rosenberg case. Black, an Alabaman, was the only member of the tribunal who voted with him.

Douglas told them he was giving serious thought to resigning shortly after his rebuff. He was manifestly deeply distressed and bitter. Reed shook his head reprovingly.

"What good would that do, Bill," said the courtly Kentuckian. "What would you prove by doing a thing like that?"

Later, another friend was bluntly critical.

"Why don't you cool off and subside for a while," the friend snapped. "If you really want to get off the Court, now is not the time to do it. One doesn't run from a fight, and you are in the middle of a very hot situation. Don't kid yourself about that. It would be most injudicious for you to complicate matters any more than they already are."

The friend's reference was to Douglas' impending divorce.

When Douglas got word in Pittsburg about the special session of the court on the stay he had granted the atom spies, he was on his way to Oregon where Mrs. Douglas is preparing to file divorce proceedings on grounds of "desertion." They have been separated several years.

Talk of leaving the bench is not new with Douglas.

He seriously considered doing that before the 1948 presidential election. Truman sought Douglas as running mate in that campaign, but he declined. Subsequently, Douglas went to Iran and wrote a best-selling book, which he followed with popular volumes on trips to other regions.

Prior to the Rosenberg explosion, Douglas was planning a visit this summer to Nepal, a remote land in Communist-threatened South East Asia.

NOTE: That operation Justice Black will shortly undergo is not of a serious nature. It's for a hernia he didn't know he had. Black went to a clinic for a physical checkup and much to his surprise was informed he had a double hernia.

Willi Goettling Found Employment

("Increasing resentment by East Germans indicates that in the summary arrest and immediate execution of an unemployed house-painter, Willi Goettling, the Russians may have made something of a martyr of him."—News item.)

* * *

Willi Goettling got up from the breakfast table and walked downtown. It was a walk that would take him to a place in history, a walk that could be a fateful one in the march of human events, changing perhaps a tide and a trend. Willi Goettling had been out of work for months. "Sorry, nothing for you today," had been the word. But there was to be a job for him this day. Fate would give him priority in a top assignment. If Willi had heard an employment office manager ask, "Have you any experience at martyrdom?" he would have been completely baffled, no doubt. The remark, "We have an opening this morning for a man who is willing to shake the world. Are you interested?" would have struck him as a little mad.

Phillips

* * *

Willi Goettling was just going downtown, as he had on so many mornings, sure that nothing would turn up. (Nothing turn up indeed!)

* * *

Willi Goettling had a cold that morning and felt low. "I couldn't do a decent day's work even if I got something," he said to his wife, as he kissed her good-bye. He was never so wrong. Willi waved to his two kids in the window. (He felt sorry that their father didn't amount to much . . . He wished they could look up to him with more pride.) When he got downtown there were strange doings. People were acting like real people . . . violently protesting inhumane acts, openly taking a stand for freedom from slavery. The spirit caught Willi, too. Then tanks and army trucks and gas squads moved in . . . It was all like a nightmare . . . Suddenly, Willi, was in the hands of Soviet soldiers. Somebody had to be made an example of. A poor, sick house-painter, would do. Speed was needed. Willi's dazed protests brought curses. Only jeers met his explanation that he was just an unemployed house-painter looking for work. He spoke of Fraulein Goettling and the two kids in vain.

* * *

An order rang out and Willi slumped and died, confused and terrified. In many countries and cities at that very moment Communists were staging protest parades against American justice, a justice of due process which had already kept from harm for two years, two traitors whose convictions had been sustained by court after court. But before Willi Goettling's body was cold, the Communist explanation of his swift extinction had been issued. "It is announced," it said, "that Willi Goettling, who acted on the orders of a foreign agency, and was one of the active organizers of provocations and riots, and who took part in bandit-like tumults has been ordered shot. The sentence has been executed." Willi Goettling had found his employment card in that text . . . he would walk, perhaps through the long years rallying the lovers of freedom, relighting torches in dark places and bearing testimony to ruthless tyranny.

When the price of postage stamps is raised the customers, not the stamps, will take the licking. . . . Federal cafeterias report a drop of 23 per cent in coffee sales since the government cut down or did away with the "coffee break" for employees. . . . But it must be quite an ordeal having to work two hours at a stretch without any time out to chat with a waitress. . . . A vagrant died in New York and was found to have more than $6,000. . . . Why the surprise? . . . It's not unusual these days to find a tramp who puts up the big car for the winter.

Equalization Meeting Called

All Counties to Appear Before State Board

When representatives of Nebraska's 93 counties appear before the State Board of Equalization, starting July 6, any studies and new information they have on local assessments will be welcomed by the board

So said Gov. Robert Crosby after the State Board made the precedent-breaking announcement that all of the counties will be asked to be present

Such evidence could include sales records of farm lands and town lots for the first six months of 1953 to show variations from last year

"Any independent studies by these counties will be to the good All of the comparisons we have been using in discussing the assessment problem have dealt with the past

"But because our job is to figure what value was on March 10, any fresh information will be of use to us," said Crosby

THE COUNTY boards of equalization are now finishing up their work Then by law the State Board begins meeting the first Monday in July to equalize between counties

In the past it has seldom been necessary for the counties to be represented at the hearings Last year, for example, only 19 counties were called in when the State Board decided to raise their farmland valuations.

But this year with the Supreme Court-ordered equalization effort, the State Board has decided every county should have a chance to appear

Crosby explained that it was hoped the counties could be called in by districts

* * *

ONLY SNAG to that plan is that the State Board would like to have the abstract of the county's assessment rolls for this year before considering it

So far abstracts of only three counties—Garfield, Perkins and Thomas—have been forwarded to the state tax commissioner

Crosby said the Board had decided that each county board will be allowed 30 minutes to state its case

The governor said he would prefer if the county board would have a spokesman He added that if the county prefers to split its 30 minutes among several members that would be its privilege

Notices will be sent to the counties sometime next week informing them when to appear

* * *

CROSBY SAID the attorney general's office had assured him this notice to the counties would satisfy the law that the board must notify them it was going to adjust their valuations

Even though the counties won't know what the board eventually will do, they will have their chance to "show cause" why their valuations shouldn't be changed That's what the law requires, it was explained

Crosby said he doubted if the counties would be called in again if their valuations were changed He emphasized that just because all 93 counties are being called in doesn't necessarily mean all 93 will be changed

New Franchise Value Formula Decided On

The State Board of Equalization Tuesday decided to adopt a new formula for setting franchise valuations of utilities

Under the formula—book value minus depreciation—many of the larger utilities in the state will have reductions

The franchise figure given below is the actual assessment figure, using the new 50 per cent law That is, mill levies will apply directly against the figures, State Tax Commission Norris Anderson explained

An exception to the general reduction rule was the electric membership associations Their franchises were considerably raised

These companies all of whom protested in vain Tuesday were increased from the flat $100 figure of last year to

Stockmen Agree 1953 Pig Crop to Equal Last Fall's

By JACK HART
Journal Staff Writer

OMAHA — Hog shippers and buyers at the Omaha Union Stockyards joined in general agreement with government estimates that Nebraska's fall pig crop will be about the same as last year

Most men in the business did not feel the estimate of a 5 per cent decline in the nation's fall pig crop would be reflected in Nebraska

* * *

BUT THE state-federal division of agricultural statistics has estimated that Nebraska's spring pig crop is 11 per cent less than last year and the smallest since 1941 The spring estimate this year was 2,668,000 compared with 2,989,000 in 1952

The 1953 spring crop will be about 15 per cent under the 10-year average.

The state's total pig crop this year is placed at 8 per cent under a year ago—3 710,000 as compared with 4 031 000

* * *

HARRY COFFEE, president of the Union Stockyards Company of Omaha said the drop in total hog production will be good for the market

"With the present surplus of beef, it will be well not to have a surplus of hogs also," he explained

Coffee said he did not think the decrease in hog production will bring higher pork prices "as long as the marketing of beef is up and the price of beef is down"

* * *

D W. SAGER of Hooper and Harvey Mozeman of Scribner both predicted a higher fall crop this year

Estimates of "about the same" came from R J Cuming of Genoa, Walter Schellpeper of Stanton, Warren Reynolds of Kearney and L A Brauer of Waverly

5 Years of Red Rule Leave Hungary, Flower of Satellites, Now Shabby

By RICHARD O'REGAN

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungary, five years after a coup d'etat brought Communism to power, is a flower among Russia's dreary East European satellites—but a flower imprisoned and wilting rapidly.

Its jailers are 25,000 rarely-seen Russian troops and the all-powerful Hungarian Communist leaders who drive huge, curtained black sedans.

Prisoners are more than 90 per cent of nine million Hungarians who appear to have just enough to eat, but have neither the time nor the cash nor the inclination to seek even the small happinesses of civilized life.

* * *

BUDAPEST, once the queen of Eastern Europe, is almost as shabby and depressing as the cities of postwar Germany. Gone are the smart Paris-style salons of Vaci Utca, gone are most of the leisurely sidewalk cafes of the Danube embankment, and gone are the groomed Magyar women who gave Budapest more beauty per square mile than any city in Europe.

Suppressed, too, are Budapest's traditional gaiety, its carefree love of life and the wealth and culture that still in 1948 had survived the pre-Communist destruction of Hungary's ancient agricultural feudalism.

* * *

IN THEIR PLACE, the Communists have shuttered thousands of shops, ripped off the names of their owners, and replaced them with state stores whose poor quality goods are out of reach for virtually every one but the new upper and middle classes of Communism.

Gone are the bright lights and the neon signs, replaced with rare exception by illuminated red stars. The highest star of all is atop Hungary's ancient Parliament, now the headquarters of a rubber-stamp assembly bowing to demands of the Kremlin and Premier Matyas Rakosi.

* * *

AND OVER THE entire new society, Hungarian Communism has imposed the grim conformity of Bolshevist dress and the dusty, grey drabness of industrial over-crowding.

To American correspondents visiting Budapest from Vienna, itself the over-crowded capital of a poor land, the Hungarian capital is depressing. But it is said to be a dreamland compared with Prague, Warsaw, Bucharest and Sofia.

It has the atmosphere of war, without the urgency of the spirit. Uniforms are as numerous and as varied as New York or London in 1943. Railway station waiting rooms resemble those of Grand Central and Paddingdon before D-Day, with hundreds of servicemen curled in corners, grabbing a chance to sleep.

* * *

TRUCKLOADS OF soldiers, singing in the Russian style, roar through the streets at night. Women police, in untidy blue and white uniforms, control the women drivers of decrepit 1933 Skoda taxis and the traffic of the state-owned, Russian-built Pobedas and Zis automobiles of government officials, engineers and doctors.

It is unwise not to make way as the uniforms approach.

* * *

THE AVH'S uncounted and dreaded agents cause Hungary's millions to cast frequent cautious glances over their shoulders and curb their critical tongues.

Despite the pressures of Communism, Hungary's six million Catholics crowd the churches to preserve their faith.

The regime orders meat served in all factory canteens and schools on Friday, and churches are falling into disrepair.

But placed by devoted hands, little cases of flowers are beneath every wayside statue of the Virgin.

Judge Gives Top Decision

WASHINGTON June 24 (AP) — Federal District Court Judge Charles F. McLaughlin, native of Lincoln and former member of Congress from Nebraska, has handed down the most important decision in several years in the field of public power vs. private utilities.

In a decision issued Monday after a prolonged trial, he upheld the legality of contracts between the Southwestern Power Administration and electrical co-operatives in Missouri, and between the electrical co-operatives and the Rural Electrification Administration.

Judge McLaughlin

THE CONTRACTS had been challenged by the utility companies as illegal invasions of public power into private domain.

Judge McLaughlin, 66, is a graduate of Lincoln High School and the University of Nebraska. While at the university, he obtained his A.B. degree and was a member of Innocents, senior men's honorary society, and Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

* * *

HE ALSO attended Columbia Law School in New York City where he obtained his Bachelor of Laws degree.

McLaughlin was a member of the Federal Court in 1916 and 1917 nad he served in the United States Army from 1917 until 1919.

He was elected on the Democratic ticket to U.S. Congress in 1935 and served there until 1943.

He was appointed United States District Court Judge in Washington, D. C., in October, 1949.

Lutheran Unit Reaffirms Its Vote on Confession Doctrine

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod at its convention here reaffirmed its 1950 adoption of a controversial common confession.

The convention also passed a resolution approving the Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible.

With only 17 dissention votes, the 42nd triennial convention upheld the constitutionality of the 1950 common confession, adopted in 1950 in Milwaukee.

* * *

WHILE MERGER of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod and the American Lutheran Church is a long-range goal of the common confession, the immediate objective is an agreement which would permit exchange of pastors and members between the two bodies.

Criticism of the confession had centered more on wording than on the document itself.

The confession—a statement of common doctrine—was drafted by committees from the Missouri Synod and the American Lutheran Church. Both churches adopted the confession in 1950.

* * *

EARLIER THE SYNOD passed a resolution stating, "we believe that the New Version" (the Revised Standard Version of the Bible) may be helpful in presenting God's message to our people in a more readable form than the King James Version."

The resolution went on to express a belief that the Revised Standard Version of the Bible will not undermine the faith of synod members in any doctrine of the Scriptures.

There are about 300 Missouri Synod churches in Nebraska as well as Concordia College at Seward.

The convention also approved establishment of a senior college at Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Recommendations submitted last Friday by the convention floor committee on seminaries and colleges were approved without change.

Last minute efforts to prevent the synod from selling its century-old Concordia Junior College campus at Ft. Wayne for $1 million failed. The action approved acceptance of the offer from the Indiana Technical College at Ft. Wayne for purchase of 80 per cent of the Concordia campus. This money, plus an additional $3,200,000, will be used to build the new college at another site to be purchased in Ft. Wayne.

Salvation Army Chief, Ernest Pugmire, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Ernest I. Pugmire, 65, national commander of the Salvation Army since 1944, collapsed and died Wednesday while walking near the Salvation Army's national headquarters.

Pugmire, born in Kansas City, Mo., had served 46 years with the Salvation Army.

Stromsburg Marks Ancestral Event

Swedish Festival Draws 2,500

Special to The Journal

STROMSBURG — About 2,500 Swedish-Americans congregated on the streets of this Polk County farming community at Stromsburg's first annual city-wide observance of the Mid-Summer Swedish Festival—their ancestral land's biggest holiday of the year

A carnival atmosphere prevailed as flags—of Stromsburg Sweden and the United States—waved from street corners and business establishments, amateur athletes performed, and the noise of the carnival—quite American—carried over the countryside

* * *

THE DOWNTOWN cafes were doing a booming business in coffee — a traditionally Swedish drink—but all of it was free for the holiday

And on their boast that 'There's not a better cup of coffee served anywhere in the state than in Stromsburg" the citizens were consuming cup after cup

The holiday, which dates back 200 years in Swedish history is described by natives as a combination of the American Thanksgiving and Fourth of July and occurring midway between the corn field work just finished and the wheat harvest soon to begin

* * *

THE CARNIVAL atmosphere died down late in the afternoon as the churches opened their doors for special Swedish services Then following the services, the festival fell into full swing on the downtown streets.

Although the churches have always observed the Mid-Summer Festival season in past years, explains Art Morrill, chairman of the Stromsburg Commercial Club activities committee, this is the first year of a city-wide observance But in the town of over 1,300 persons, adds Morrill—"not less than 80 per cent' of whom are Swedish — 'The telephone book" says Morrill, 'will indicate that —the observance is sure to become an annual event And it will be bigger better and much more expensive' in the future, he promises

Emergency Doctor Call Procedure to Be Mapped

OMAHA (AP) — City-County Health Director Dr Edwin Lyman met with Dr W J McMartin of the Omaha-Douglas County Medical Association and city officials to map out procedures for emergency calls to city doctors

Lyman said the procedure in answering calls from rescue workers will be outlined, with the rules perhaps written out and distributed to interested persons

The meeting followed an angry blast by Fire Chief Eugene Fields against city doctors for failing to answer a call to an accidental electrocution

The city doctor said he failed to respond to the call because he understood the victim was dead when informed he had been electrocuted

Captain of Polish Liner Jumps Ship for Asylum

LONDON (AP) — The Polish sea captain who hauled fugitive Gerhart Eisler to a Communist haven was a refugee from the Reds Wednesday and Britain was expected to grant him political asylum.

Tre Pole, Capt. Jan Cwiklinski of the liner Batory, who was decorated by the Red Warsaw regime for his part in Eisler's escape from the United States, stayed ashore with the ship's medical officer when the Batory sailed from Britain Saturday.

* * *

OFFICIALS, maintaining tight secrecy about the whole affair, said only that the asylum request was under study.

London newspapers said both Cwiklinski and the medical officer, identified as a Dr. Taklaeter, were being held at Durham Prison while the request was under consideration. There was no official confirmation of this report.

Cwiklinski is married and has a son and daughter. It was not known here whether they had made their way out of Poland.

CAPT. JAN CWIKLINSKI

Ike Asks Foreign Aid Backing

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has asked congressional leaders to back his hand at the July Big Three conference with a foreign aid program approved without major cuts.

Presidential lieutenants who have talked to legislative chieftains pictured Eisenhower as being anxious to give Britain and France not only his own but congressional assurance that the flow of military assistance to them will be continued.

* * *

CHAIRMAN WILEY (R-Wis) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said he will sponsor an amendment to increase the President's authority to transfer funds from one area to another, perhaps more critically in need.

Wiley's proposal represented something of a retreat from his recent suggestion that the President be given unlimited authority to shift aid from one country to another or to withhold it entirely.

* * *

SEN. TAFT OF OHIO, Republican leader, said he doesn't believe the Senate would agree to unlimited presidential authority. But he said he is willing to delegate to Eisenhower the decision on whether about a billion dollars in European aid should be withheld until Western European countries ratify the European Defense Community treaties for formation of a unified army.

Culbertson On Bridge

South used good reasoning to bring home his doubled contract in the hand below.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
North-South 60 on score.
The bidding:

	NORTH
	♠ J 7 3
	♥ 6 5
	♦ K 10 4
	♣ A K 7 5 2
WEST		EAST
♠ Q 9 8 6 5 4		♠ K 10 2
♥ 7 4 3		♥ A K Q J 9
♦ J 9 7 5		♦ 8
♣ ..		♣ Q 10 6 4
	SOUTH
	♥ 10 8 2
	♦ A Q 6 3 2
	♣ J 9 8 3

South	West	North	East
1 Diamond	Pass	1 No Trump	Double
2 Clubs	2 Spades	3 Clubs	3 Hearts
Pass	Pass	4 Clubs	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

His side's 60 part-score probably influenced North to bid one no-trump on the first round, but a two-club response would have been sounder at any score.

West's acceptance of his partner's four-club double was "close." True, his side could have made four hearts or four spades, but West could scarcely know that.

West led his top heart and East collected two tricks in the suit, then shifted to the spade deuce. Declarer led a low trump to the king, discovering West's void. A low trump was led from dummy; East put up the queen and laid down the spade king. South ruffed, cashed his jack of trumps—and then did some thinking.

It would be easy to ruff a heart in dummy, draw East's last trump, and then run the diamond suit, but would the diamond suit run? South considered the distribution that East had so clearly revealed. He had bid two hearts—he couldn't have had fewer than five. (Moreover, West had led his top heart, not a fourth-best.) East had shown four clubs, and his method of leading spades had been absolute evidence that he had at least three cards in that suit. (Also, West would have rebid if he had held seven spades.) So East was clearly marked with one diamond, at most, and unless it happened to be the jack, normal play would not produce the needed diamond tricks.

Declarer promptly led to the diamond ten, anad when it held he was on the home stretch.

Ress Says 1953 Traffic Up 5%; $5 Million Construction Planned

'Bright' Side Is Boost in Gas Tax Take

State Engineer L. N Ress said Wedensday that the traffic volume over a selected list of Nebraska highways so far this year has run 5 per cent over 1952

Ress said he thought this increase would continue to be reflected during the rest of the year

From the "good" side of the picture there is the fact that the increased traffic will mean more gas tax funds for the state to match with federal funds and create a better highway system

* * *

BUT, RESS pointed out, it also shows that Nebraska's roads are going to need plenty of work to keep them in adequate shape to handle the traffic

The engineer revealed that in April of this year there were imported into Nebraska 43,607,648 gallons of gasoline upon which taxes were paid. This does not include refund gallonage or that used in aviation or agriculture and is 9 per cent over the total in April of last year

It was also reported that for the first four months of 1953 the total gallons taxed increased 11 per cent over the same period of 1952.

* * *

THE STATE has 15 permanent traffic checking stations and all but four of these showed an increase for the first four months of the year

U.S. 77 and 275 north of Fremont showed a 1 per cent drop, while U.S. 6 and 34 west of Arapahoe was even with last year Biggest increases were N-2 and 92 west of Broken Bow, 18 per cent, N-4 west of Davenport, 14, U S 20 east of Chadron, 12, U S 20 west of South Sioux City, 11, N-7 south of Ainsworth, 11

All of the checking spots showed an increase of traffic in May over April of this year.

The Highway Department expects to contract for $35,582,000 worth of construction work by June, 1955

This estimate was made Wednesday by State Engineer L N Ress as he reviewed the revenue bills passed by the Legislature

But, Ress added, there were "many unknowns" that might upset his prediction

The main unknowns are blizzards, floods and bad spring break-ups, Ress said

A summary of the types of work planned

PRIMARY SYSTEM

Grading structures, gravel surfacing 127 miles $4 490 000
Grading structures, bituminous surfacing 92 miles $3 557 000
Grading structures, high type surfacing 103 miles $7 862 000
Bituminous surfacing only, 126 miles, $3, 234 000
Widening and resurfacing existing concrete pavements 122 miles $4 880 000
Concrete paving only six miles, $325 000
Three bridges, $805 000
Total primary system, $25,215,000.

SECONDARY SYSTEM

Grading structures, gravel surfacing 166 miles $3 004 000
Grading structures bituminous surfacing 138 miles $3 080 000
Grading structures high type surfacing 14 miles $1 435 000
Bituminous surfacing only 36 miles, $830 000
Widening and resurfacing existing concrete pavement, three miles $110 000
Three bridges, $410 000
Total secondary system, $10 339 000

Cards 'at Home' at Home; Cop 7 of Last 8 as Musial Pulls Out of Slump

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals, last National League club to win a World Series, have taken seven out of eight games since coming home a week ago.

They roared through the Brooklyn Dodgers for three straight, added three out of four from Pittsburgh and Tuesday night greeted the New York Giants with a seven-run barrage in the first inning that carried them to a 15-8 triumph.

● ● ●

STAN MUSIAL, hampered all spring by his most prolonged batting slump since coming to the majors, finally seems to have found his eye.

He's blasted five doubles, a home run and seven singles in 30 times at bat for a .433 pace on the home stand.

Harvey Haddix went all the way on the mound for his ninth victory, even though the Giants got to him for 11 hits.

The Cards moved within a half a game of the slumping second-place Brooklyn Dodgers, who lost, 3-2, to Cincinnati on Grady Hatton's pinch-hit home run, and to within 3½ games of league-leading Milwaukee.

● ● ●

THE BRAVES got a beautiful two-hit pitching job from Warren Spahn but lost, 1-0, to the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates. Robin Roberts won his 12th game as he pitched the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-1 decision over Chicago.

In the American League the first place New York Yankees increased their lead over Cleveland to 11 games although they lost 11-3 to Chicago.

Cleveland dropped a day-night puir in Boston, 6-4, and 2-1. The night game ran 10 innings before Mill Bolling doubled home the winning run with two out.

St. Louis edged Washington, 4-3, and Detroit's Steve Gromek whitewashed the Philadelphia Athletics on four hits, 5-0.

THE DODGERS were breezing along with a one-run lead until Hatton delivered with a man on base.

Spahn lost his heartbreaker when Carlos Bernier sliced a single, the second Pittsburgh hit, with two men on base in the eighth.

The Yankee defense fell apart for four errors, three of them in the fifth inning, against the White Sox.

The Chicagoans scored six runs in the fifth. Allie Reynolds absorbed most of the punishment for his third loss.

● ● ●

AT BOSTON the Red Sox took the afternoon game by scoring two runs in the eighth inning on what apparently was going to be an easily caught fly ball.

The wind caught the fly and converted it into a triple for Dick Gernert. Bob Chakales lost a five-hit pitching duel to Maury McDermott in the night game on Bolling's double.

Satchel Paige snuffed out a ninth-inning Washington rally to save the Browns' victory over the Senators for starter Bob Cain.

LINCOLN 1, NEB., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 24, 1953—P.M.

One Lincoln 'Hope' Left

Mrs. Paul Hyland is the last hope to keep the Nebraska State Women's Golf Championship from going to Omaha.

Mrs. Hyland, nee Jean Hazen, moved into the semifinals Wednesday along with three Omahans —Mrs. Russell Mann, Mrs. Edith Goddard and Mrs. W. O. Larson.

MRS. HYLAND will meet Mrs. Mann in the semifinals Thursday. Mrs. Mann is seeking her fourth straight Husker crown. Victim of Mrs. Hyland Wednesday in the quarter-finals was young Jean Poling of Beatrice who was defeated, 8 and 7. Mrs. Hyland was six up at the turn with a 43 and had a birdie two on the tenth hole.

Mrs. Mann shot a sizzzling 37 on the front nine to win 7 and 6 over Jan Walker of Omaha in what had been expected to be a tough test for the defending title-holder.

In the lower bracket Mrs. Goddard and Mrs. Larson will meet. Mrs. Goddard took an easy 6 and 5 victory over Mrs. S. J. Marchese of Omaha while Mrs. Larson beat Mrs. Dean Sack of York, 4 and 3.

Phyllis Ann Williamson of Lincoln won the putting contest to salvage some more honor for the Capital City entries. She defeated Gwen Campbell of Omaha, 2-up in a playoff.

Mrs. Mann won the driving competition with a blast of 245 yards while Helen Kalin of Lincoln was only a yard behind that.

The women gathered at the Lincoln Country Club, site of the tourney, for a luncheon following semifinal play.

Maxim Confident Of Upset Victory

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—Joey Maxim steps into the ring tonight confident that he will pull an upset and win back the world light heavyweight championship he lost to Archie Moore last December. The betting odds favor Moore, the 36-year-old veteran from San Diego, by a reported 8 to 5, in their scheduled 15-round rematch.

The temperature may be up over 85 in Ogden's open air Municipal Stadium when the two climb into the ring around 8 p.m. CST.

The fight will be televised on the CBS network. There will be no radio broadcast.

● ● ●

A YEAR AGO Tuesday Joey held up and Sugar Ray Robinson wilted in the stretch in their battle in Yankee Stadium.

Said Maxim's manager, Jack Kearns:

"It was hotter in his corner than it was in Maxim's. Maybe it will be the same with Moore tonight."

An extra attraction is a scheduled 10-round aftermatch match between Rex Layne, Utah's heavyweight hope, and Billy McClure of California.

McClure recently was denied a license to box in California "for his own best interests," by the California Boxing Commission.

Cerv's Four-Ply Clout Is Record

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bob Cerv Tuesday night hit what is believed to be the longest measured home ruun in Kansas City history as the Blues fought off a series of St. Paul rallies to defeat the Saints, 7-6.

Cerv blasted his homer in the sixth. The ball cleared the 60-foot light tower in leftfield and landed three rows deep in a parking lot across the street. The scoreboard operator spotted the ball as it landed, and measurement later showed it traveled 499 feet, 10 inches in the air.

Cerv also cracked two singles and drove in three runs.

Elks at Hastings For Night Battle

Lincoln's Elks will be gunning for revenge tonight when they travel to Hastings for an exhibition American Legion baseball battle.

Hastings, undefeated in ten straight tilts, owns a 2-1 decision over the Elks, defending state Legion champs. Cal Johnson, who pitched Hastings to the win, may again get the nod to toss against the Elks.

Ted Lepcio, infielder for the Boston Red Sox, is a graduate of Seton Hall University.

Coast Coasts Over Big Ten

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A dazed Big Ten track squad was ready and willing to admit Wednesday that the West Coast is supreme in the field of running, jumping and throwing.

The Midwest athletes had as evidence an 82 1/6 -49 5/6 drubbing at the hands of the picked Pacific Coast Conference squad here Tuesday in the 12th annual inter-conference meet.

The PCC squad won 10 of the 16 events and tied in another.

Once again it was the power of Illinois, the Big Ten's best, versus the power of University of Southern California, pride of the West Coast.

The Trojan athletes won six events to Illinois' two. They compiled 40½ points to Illinois' 25.

In the matter of settling records, the two clans were even. Sim Iness, the giant Olympic discus champion, set a meet record in his specialty. Rich Ferguson of Iowa set one in the two mile.

Iness' toss of 178 feet 5⅞ erased the mark of 173 feet, 4 inches set by Bob Mathias of Stanford in 1951.

Cubs Bound to Profit From Kiner Acquisition

By JOHN CARMICHAEL
Lincoln Journal - Chicago Daily News Service

CHICAGO — Whether the Cubs finish eighth or better, there can be little doubt but what the acquisition of Ralph Kiner and Joe Garagiola has been, and will be, a help. Maybe if they'd been around sooner, the team would be in better standing.

The aspects of the Cub-Pirate deal are twofold, (A) Wid Matthews wouldn't have made the deal if he hadn't been more or less pressured into it by the club's collapse and (B) Branch Rickey failed to make a more advantageous transaction with every other club in the league.

MATTHEWS admits that had the Cubs been going anywhere at all, he wouldn't have effected the trade. Not that he regrets it, simply that it would not have come up. Wid also had to agree that Pittsburgh, at one time or another, must have sought a better bargain elsewhere.

It has been a trying few weeks for Wid . . . and his beautiful and enduring friendship for Rickey suffered a rift when "Uncle Branch" bigmanned himself at Matthews' expense by telling the Cub Director of personnel to deduct $5,000 from the amount due Pittsburgh and give it to Kiner. Rickey said he had a moral obligation to give Ralph the dough.

In this deal, or any other, the retail value of the men involved has to be considered. Matthews and Rickey did a lot of "doodling" with pencil and paper before coming to an agreement.

AT THE time the deed was done it was alleged that the Cubs were taking on a $115,000 payroll as against an estimated $48,000 tab which was supposed to represent the combined wages of the six former residents of Wrigley Field.

Much was made of the fact that Rickey had handed the Cubs a "padded" tab.

But one of our most highly regarded bird dogs, who never has been wrong, insists that the over-all payroll increase for the Cubs is less than $50,000 for the year, including Kiner's reputed $72,500 salary.

On that basis, therefore, the departed Cubs must have been drawing bigger checks the 1st and 15th of each month than anybody would suspect. Bigger, by all odds, than their average play warranted. But the Cubs always have been pretty liberal.

KINER SERVED his time and purpose in Pittsburgh. He packed in the customers for a few years when people were paying just to see him hit a home run. He was one of the biggest frogs in one of the littlest puddles you ever saw.

Some folks are thinking that maybe the Cubs resent a high-salaried guy like Ralph being brought in and it will show in their play.

This is doubtful. Most players realize that the higher a top salary goes, the better chance they have to use it as a ceiling for their own bargaining.

Perfect Mark For 'Little Mo'

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Defending champion Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly and former title-holder Doris Hart did not lose a game Tuesday as they led eight Americans to victory in women's singles at the Wimbledon tennis championships.

Of the eight American girls who played, only Anne Gray of Washington was beaten. Of the seven winners, only Karol Fageros of Miami lost a set.

Miss Connolly, the Wimbledon, U.S., Australian and French champion, began her bid for a second straight title with a 21-minute, 6-0, 6-0 victory over Dofa Kilian of South Africa.

Miss Hart, seeded second behind Miss Connolly, whipped Janet Morgan of Britain by the same margin.

the genuine-original SPOT RESISTANT and WATER REPELLENT SUMMER SUIT

The man in this true-to-life photograph is actually wearing a new 1952 "Repel-O-Tized" Northcool.

ACCIDENTS like this will happen when you act before you think. But there's no need to despair if the suit you wear is "REPEL-O-TIZED" NORTHCOOL. The amazing "REPEL-O-TIZED" feature banishes the annoyance of messy, penetrating spots. Water, cola, even coffee roll right off the fabric. A quick wipe and there's no sign of a stain. To this remarkable achievement, NORTHCOOL adds the plus pleasure of greater COOLNESS—the fabric has 34% more porosity! And, the crowning touch is the way your "REPEL-O-TIZED" NORTHCOOL fits—thanks to the fact that it's "Pattern-Master Designed" — FOR BETTER FIT—FOR ALL MEN—IN ALL SIZES.

I May Be Wrong

By Walt Dobbins
Journal Sports Editor

The trans-planted Nebraskan, Deke Houlgate, air-mailed me a few notes about the "Men of Troy" which should be of more than passing interest to the track addict, especially those who were fortunate enough to see last weeks' NCAA championships at Memorial Stadium.

Houlgate pens the following from Los Angeles (Deke, incidentally is a syndicate writer and statistician whose column "In the Huddle" blankets a good portion of the nation)—

"That terrific Trojan trio has contributed their last points to the winning of track meets for the University of Southern California and will now drift apart.

"Their memory—which includes no recollection of team defeat— will not depart.

"Parry O'Brien, Sim Iness and Jack Davis formed the most formidably triumphant triangle ever before known in track and field history. Each became a world's champion in his specialty and each finished his collegiate career by contributing the maximum that helped his alma mater win another NCAA championship at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Trojans' Big Three

"Big and handsome Parry, the giant Sim and none-like him Jack scored a total of 48 points as they competed for the last time in Trojan uniforms.

"That was seven more than enough to tie second place Illinois. Other teammates contributed two more firsts and 32 points for an impressive 80 point victory.

"Now let's tell you some things about these great kids. . .

"Parry O'Brien, Junior, who has had his name mispelled more often than any living athlete, carries the map of Ireland etched above an uncompromising chin. Yet he, his father and his mother (Hazel) point with pride to a Welsh ancestry.

"Others, besides Junior's parents, are proud that he is a brain as well as a large hunk of brawn. When intellectual snobs get around to slurring college athletes, they had best not cite Parry as an example.

"He intends to take his place in a field of science reserved for intellectuals.

Iness, Mathias Teammates

"Sim Iness is the perfect example of the boy carried to the heights by athletic ability. He also is the new holder of the world's record for the discus throw, established in Lincoln at 190' ⅞" last Saturday.

"Some of us compared him with the fictional gal who was always a bridesmaid but never a bride.

"The big thrower made the mistake of being raised in the little town of Tulare, Calif., at the same time that the great Bob Mathias was writing schoolboy history. When the two graduated from the same high school at the same time, everyone wanted Bob but few were interested in Sim. The few who were used to gather in the local Elks club and discuss the disparity.

"Finally a few Tulare Elks got busy and raised a fund which provided for a college education in any school Sim might select.

"His choice was USC but he was forced to spend a year in Compton Junior College before being accepted. Meanwhile, he married a pretty and wonderful little lady. The family is now three.

"Only days before he was to leave for Lincoln and set a new world's record, Sim was smashed in the face by a flying saucer, lost two teeth and had to have the inside of his mouth sewed up. People with less personal courage would have tossed in the towel.

"Sim's new discus mark may last only briefly because Mrs. Iness has predicted that he will toss the thing at least 200'.

Davis Most Versatile

"Jack Davis helps to complete this athletic triangle. He is the most versatile of the three. Gifted far beyond the average athlete, he has everything it takes for success in the work-a-day world.

"Davis has physical ability-plus, a pleasing personality and an interest in everyone he meets. He should go to the top as a coach or a salesman or a business executive.

"His father and his mother (Maude) have never doubted that he was headed for greatness. His teammates know him as a chap who always encouraged the other fellow while winning as he willed. His teachers occasionally felt that he could have done better . . . but things seemed to come too easy. His friends, who are legion, had a hunch that Jack could do anything he decided to do. Last week he decided to win the high and low hurdles in the NCAA.

"It is now time for a goodbye to the Big Three of Troy."

In three seasons of Big Ten tennis competition, Michigan State has won three straight doubles titles, two singles crowns and one team championship.

Vet Vernon In Vote Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Mickey Vernon, 35-year-old Washington Senator first baseman, Wednesday regained the lead for an American League starting assignment in the annual All-Star baseball poll.

Vernon, in a close battle with Ferris Fain of Chicago and Eddie Robinson of Philadelphia, edged into first place with a total of 121,614, to Fain's 117,332. Robinson was third with 111,801.

Another new leader is Granny Hamner of the Philadelphia Phillies, who leads Peewee Reese of the Brooklyn Dodgers 119,882 to 112,706 for the National League's shortstop post.

The poll of fans to determine the starting American and National League lineups for the inter-league game in Cincinnati July 14 ends July 3.

Murry Dickson, pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, established a major league record for home runs allowed by a hurler in one season when he gave up 39 homers in 1948.

Man Beats Nags, But Not Police

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A man broke the glass in a cashier's window at Hollywood Park Tuesday, grabbed 37 $100 bills and ran.

The cashier pushed a switch of a new alarm system and track guards soon surrounded the fleeing man.

Booked on suspicion of grand theft, Harvey Karman, 29, a contractor, told police Capt. Henry W. Stevenson he had just lost $5,000 betting on the horses "and thought this was the easiest way to get even."

Chiefs, Bruins Split Twin Card

DES MOINES (AP)—Des Moines stopped Norm (no-hit) Bell in the first game, 2-0, but Lincoln bounced back to take the 11-inning nightcap, 5-4, here.

Lincoln scored twice in the 11th to break a 3-3 knot on two doubles and a single, then Reliefer Roger Wright came in to halt a Bruin rally one run short of another tie in the last half of the inning.

Walt Linden and Pitcher Fred Waters doubled in the top of the finale for one run and Tom Neill brought Waters in with a single.

Lincoln had taken a 3-2 lead in the 10th on Fred Hancock's double and two infield outs.

Pass the Water, Mom, We've Got the Pitchers

By JIM RAGLIN
Journal City Sports Writer

Mrs. Mike Wiese, Sr., of 3171 N. 41st street, doesn't always look in the kitchen pantry when someone yells "can o' corn."

She'd probably scan the sky for a high fly to outfield if she heard that phrase during the summer.

It is just a part of family life for Mrs. Wiese.

• • •

SHE HAS three ball players in the family, plus an "ex."

Robert, Harold and Mike, Jr., are all pitchers in the City Softball Leagues. Mike, Sr., father of the chucking corps, was a baseball moundsman at Portsmouth, Ia., in "the good old days."

Veteran of the Wiese pitching parade is Mike Jr. He has been tossing softballs for 15 years in various city leagues. Currently, Mike is pitching for Tillman's in the AAA League. At 34 he rates as sage of the circuit.

Harold, 18, is in his third year of pitching. Robert, 24, recently returned from the service, has earned a five-year hash mark for his hill duties.

• • •

HAROLD and Robert pitch for opposing teams in the AA League. Harold chucks for Pleze-U-Cleaners while Robert twirls for Gas Service. One of the highlights of a recent game between these teams was Harold's strikeout of his brother.

With true paternal objectivity, Mrs. Wiese didn't root for either team in that tilt, but she joins Harold in a hearty laugh whenever the strikeout incident comes up for discussion.

"It's all a lot of fun," says Mrs. Wiese, a lady who really knows the score when it comes to softball or baseball.

Marquette Boosts Assistant

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Joel F. Nagle was promoted from assistant to head basketball coach at Marquette University to succeed Fred (Tex) Winter, who resigned to become Kansas State College's new cage coach.

REA Groups Protest Tax Hike Move

Representatives of four rural electric membership associations appeared before the State Board of Equalization to protest proposed franchise taxes on them

The tax has been levied against the rural electric membership associations only since 1950

This year the state tax commissioner's office is increasing the tax on most of these associations

It is understood this is because many of the county assessors didn't boost the assessment on tangible property of these companies

Representatives of the Wheatbelt Niobrara Valley Panhandle and Franklin County Rural Electric Membership Associations appeared to protest

Speaking for them was C A Sorenson Lincoln attorney

He said they were private associations which don't serve the general public Also, they have no stock The groups have no "special privileges" such as the right of eminent domain, for which the franchise tax theoretically is payment

In any case, Sorenson and other speakers said the franchise tax had nothing to do with the assessment on lines and transformers

REA Groups Protest Tax Hike Move

Representatives of four rural electric membership associations appeared before the State Board of Equalization to protest proposed franchise taxes on them.

The tax has been levied against the rural electric membership associations only since 1950.

This year the state tax commissioner's office is increasing the tax on most of these associations.

It is understood this is because many of the county assessors didn't boost the assessment on tangible property of these companies.

Representatives of the Wheatbelt, Niobrara Valley, Panhandle, and Franklin County Rural Electric Membership Associations appeared to protest.

Speaking for them was C. A. Sorenson, Lincoln attorney.

He said they were private associations which don't serve the general public. Also, they have no stock. The groups have no "special privileges," such as the right of eminent domain, for which the franchise tax theoretically is payment.

In any case, Sorenson and other speakers said, the franchise tax had nothing to do with the assessment on lines and transformers.

Lester Carlton, 36, Fremont, Dies

FREMONT (AP)—Lester Carlton, 36-year-old Fremont businessman and former editor of the Oakland Independent, died Monday at Rochester, Minn. He had been ill for several months and was in Rochester for treatment.

Carlton and his brother, Norman, were partners in the Carlton Brothers Office Equipment Company of Fremont.

Active in community affairs, Lester had served on the executive committee of the American Legion, on the board of trustees of the Chamber of Commerce, and on the board of the First Lutheran Church here.

Survivors include his wife, Marian; two daughters, Kathy, 6, and Ann, 2, and his mother, Mrs. Esther V. Carlton, Oakland.

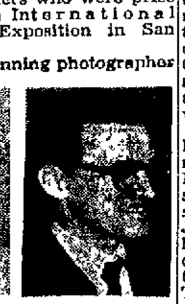
Baby-sitting in an original, and effective, way—earning international attention for two Lincoln youngsters—has also brought a third place competitive photography award to Frank A. O'Neill one of two Journal-Star Printing Co. photographers who were prize winners in the International Photographic Exposition in San Francisco.

The other winning photographer

Urwiller



O'Neill

John Urwiller, received third place in the speedlight class.

O'Neill snapped a feature picture how little Ann Holman, 2, mistook her parents' "baby sitting" assignment by sitting astride her one-year-old brother, Jim. The photo was declared winner of a third place tie in the feature class.

* * *

URWILLER won third place in the speedlight class with a photo taken for the Sunday Journal and Star.

Urwiller's photo, "Mass Mayhem," showed four midget rasslers battering each other in a tag match match in the State Fairgrounds arena.

O'Neill's photo of the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Holman of 114 C Huskerville, published in The Lincoln Journal last Dec. 19, already had won notice from newspaper readers across the nation, in England and Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Holman received scores of letters and clippings about the photo of their youngsters. Strangers and some friends wrote from Alaska, New Orleans, San Antonio, Portland, Chicago, New York and many other points.

* * *

THE PICTURE, which wound up on Page 1 of a number of newspapers throughout the country, was published in an English overseas weekly, received by an Omahan. The Associated Press sent the picture across the nation and to Alaska and England by wirephoto.

Among the responses received by the Holmans was a request by a near-blind sculptor in St. Joseph, Mo., asking that he be allowed to sculpt a statuette of the baby-sitting pose. A resident in the St. Joseph blind rehabilitation center, he made the pose first in plaster of Paris, then in ceramics. He returned a replica to the Holmans.

The contest in which the two Lincoln newspaper photographers earned prizes attracted the works of lensmen from around the world. The works, representing 20 nations, will be shown when the Exposition opens in San Francisco June 30.

More than 1,500 photographs will be on display.

Minute Red Spider Mites Infest Lincoln Evergreens

Nurserymen Suggest Spray, Good Rain as Most Effective Remedies

It's no bigger that the head of a pin, but the red spider mite is mighty bothersome this summer.

The little fellows are infesting evergreen trees in the Lincoln area, and commercial nurserymen warn that trees, especially spruce, could be lost because of it.

The insects suck the juice out of the tree. That causes browning, which is often mistaken for a disease.

* * *

ONE NURSERYMAN pointed out that you can tell if a tree is infested by shaking the foilage over a piece of white paper. If the mites are present, they show up very well on the paper.

Apparently the current heat wave has built up the mite population.

* * *

CARL HILL, assistant county agent, says a good rain now would slow the pests down, probably for the rest of the summer.

Rain or no, however, they can be controlled, Hill points out.

A spray using one pound of wetable sulfur to 10 gallons of water will knock out the pest. Three commercial products will also do the job, he says.

Crosby Tax Value Scares Omahans

OMAHA (AP)—Douglas County Commissioner George Woodward said taxpayers here will suffer "terrible hardships" if the State Board of Equalization figures that property in the county currently is valued for tax purposes at 12½ per cent of actual value.

"Governor Crosby is way wrong," Woodward told fellow commissioners.

"If the governor sells the state board on this 12½ per cent deal, and they multiply by whatever percentage is necessary to raise valuations here to 50 per cent, there will be a terrible hardship on taxpayers," he said.

Some Omahans have contended the 12½ per cent applies only to certain types of property, and that some commercial property is valued considerably higher.

Summer officers also were elected. They are:

Wheat Leads Balance of Grains Down

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures were leading the balance of the grain list downward on the Board of Trade Wednesday

Disappointing export sales, expanding harvest in the Southwest and liberal receipts at terminals were responsible for the pressure in wheat

Soybeans were running a close second on the drop as reports persisted that producers were shipping or preparing to ship old stocks into market in order to provide storage space for wheat

Political Use of Forced Labor Found in USSR

U.N. Committee Reports Three Satellite Countries Also Guilty

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—A United Nations Committee reported that forced labor as a means of political persecution was definitely established in the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania.

In these countries, the committee declared, "A person may be sentenced to forced labor for . . . having in some way expressed his ideological opposition to the established political order, or even because he is only suspected of such hostility.

* * *

"HE MAY be sentenced by procedures which do not afford him full rights of defense, often by a purely administrative order. . . In addition, the penalty of forced labor to which he is condemned is intended for his political 'correction' or 're-education,' that is to alter his political convictions to the satisfaction of the government in power.

"Such a system is, by its very nature and attributes, a violation of the fundamental rights of the human person as guaranteed by the charter of the United Nations."

In four other countries—Hungary, Poland, South Africa and Malaya — he committee found laws permitting forced labor for political coercion also existed, but there was not sufficient evidence to establish whether or to what extent these laws were applied in practice.

* * *

IN THE Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, South Africa and the Portuguese island colony of Sao Thome, off the West African coast, forced labor appeared to be definitely established as a fundamental part of the economic system, the committee said.

Forced labor for economic purposes also was possible — though not proved — under existing laws in nearly all the remaining Soviet satellites, as well as in the Australian Pacific island colony of Nauru, and in Spain, Kenya, the Belgian Congo and some parts of the United States.

* * *

THE COMMITTEE rejected as unfounded or irrelevant all but one of 15 separate forced labor allegations made against the United States. The one exception arose from possible "abusive use" of the vagrancy laws of some states. In these states, which were not identified "the term 'vagrancy' is defined so broadly and the punishment for the offense is so severe, that, if extensively interpreted and applied, it could lead to a system's forced labor for economic purposes," the committee declared.

The three-member committee was appointed in 1951 jointly by the United Nations and the International Labor Organization on a suggestion originally made by the American Federation of Labor.

Omaha Eyes $150 Fee For Explosives Trucks

OMAHA (AP)—Operators of explosives trucks would have to pay a $150 fee for a trip through Omaha under a proposal made by Fire Commissioner William D. Noyes.

Noyes said the fee would provide for a police escort and fire truck escort.

"I don't know what would happen if one of those trucks should catch fire downtown," he said, citing a recent accident near Sabetha, Kan., in which an explosives truck burned.

Documents Unexamined But Still Slanderous

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations Committee on Forced Labor reported it received the following communication from Russia:

"The delegation of the USSR to the U.N. presents its compliments to the U.N. Secretariat and herewith returns, unexamined, the documents attached to the Secretariat's letter of Nov. 22, 1952, since these documents contain slanderous fabrications concerning the Soviet Union."

BRIDE KILLED—Funeral services were to be Wednesday at the Methodist Church in Dorchester for Mrs. Robert Machacek, 18, killed in a Colorado auto accident while she and her husband were on their honeymoon trip. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leu Plachy of Dorchester, she worked in Crete.

FREMONT (AP)—Charles Larson of Bertrand, Neb., was named president of the Nebraska State Rural Letter Carriers Association at the conclusion of the group's 51st annual convention here. The group also selected Alliance as the site of the 1954 meeting but set no date.

Larson

Norval Roeder, Waverly, was selected vice president; Arlan Peard, Hampton, secretary treasurer, and Charles Umberger, Lincoln, legislative chairman.

Officers were installed by B. A. Winquist, past national president of the Rural Mail Carriers Association.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

BY ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D Sc.

1 If he does, he's in for trouble She thinks something is worth worrying about and will fly back with, "If it were yours you'd worry. You don't understand what I value!" One word leads to another and soon they're arguing over grocers bills or whether to spank Junior.

2 Maybe in the year 10 000 But E. V. Kraus, Director of the Reformed Spelling Society suggests we begin by tossing out 'ph' for 'f,' and go on slowly from there At first, 'fysician, filosophy and fotograph' would look strange but no stranger than, 'Phiphty-phive Phrench Phlags phluttered phrom phyphty-phive phriendly phoreign phrigates Phriday, Phebruary Phurst.' I'm phoh it.

3 Did you ever watch a dog chasing his tail? He thinks he must catch it or die in the attempt Circular reasoners are worried about something and their minds go round and round trying to catch a solution—but they never do

POINTS FOR PARENTS

BY EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE

Not This — This

Mother: "Come and let me undress you for bed."

Son: "No! Don't want to!"

Mother: "Don't say no to mother. Only bad little boys say no all the time."

Mother: (ignoring son's no: "I will untie your shoe and you pull it off. That's fine. Shall I pull off one sock or do you want to take off both of them?"

Toddlers' no's decrease more rapidly when ignored than when given importance by scolding and punishing.
